Order of the Arrow

The OA, Scouting's national honor society, offers printable letters of congratulations for new Eagle Scouts. There are two versions: one from the National Order of the Arrow Chief and Vice Chief (youth positions) and one from the OA chairman (adult position). Link: Here.

U.S. Air Force Academy

The academy in Colorado Springs, Colo., will auto-generate a printable certificate for Eagle Scouts. Link: Here.

U.S. Coast Guard Academy

The academy in New London, Conn., will auto-generate a congratulatory letter for Eagle Scouts. Link: Here.

U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service

This federal agency within the Department of the Interior offers certificates you can fill and print at home. They are generic, meaning you could use them to recognize an Eagle Scout, Venturing Silver Award recipient, Sea Scout Quartermaster and more. Link: Here.

U.S. Military Academy (West Point)

West Point will email you a personalized certificate and letter. Link: Here.

Marine Corps League

This congressionally chartered veterans organization recognizes Eagle Scouts with a “Good Citizenship” certificate. Thirty days’ notice is required. When possible, the league might even have a Marine present the certificate at the Eagle court of honor. Link: Here.

U.S. Air Force

The Air Force acknowledges Eagle Scouts through its Air Force Scout Recognition Program. Eagle Scouts can receive a certificate and letter of commendation. Scouts, Scout leaders or parents may submit a request at this link. The Air Force says to allow at least four weeks for the certificate to be printed and mailed. This is an automated, all-digital process. Paper requests (or “snail mail”) are no longer accepted.

U.S. Marines

The Marine Corps, as of March 25, 2014, no longer honors mail-in requests. There is no process for online requests, either. The Marine Corps processes all requests at local recruiting stations. Call 1-800-MARINES (1-800-627-4637) to ask for the closest recruiting station near you.
